MARYVILLE COLLEGE

Begins Its Ninety-Eighth Year on Tuesday, September 12, 1916.

Maryville College is glad to express again its sincere gratitude to the Maryville Chamber of Commerce and its Committees and all the citizens of Blount county for their prompt, generous, and most helpful service in assuming the responsibility for raising $25,000 to insure the rebuilding of Carnegie Hall. As this announcement for the ensuing year is being made, work on the new building is being pushed steadily forward and the new Carnegie Hall, with accommodations for two hundred and thirty-eight young men, will be ready for use at the opening of the winter term.

The past year has been the greatest, in many respects, in the history of the College. 805 students were enrolled: 535 from Tennessee, including 287 from Blount County and 248 from 47 other counties; and 270 from 31 States and countries outside of Tennessee. The Faculty of fifty-eight (the largest academic faculty in East Tennessee), with seventeen additional officers, seventy-five in all, is the largest teaching and administrative force the College has ever had. The inauguration of the Centennial Forward Fund of $325,000, to be completed by the COLLEGE CENTENNIAL in 1919, marked the climax of the Greatest Year.

The coming year is confidently expected to eclipse even the magnificent record of the past. The Faculty, to which there will be some additions, will be composed of men and women specialists trained for teaching their respective branches. The highest standards of instruction and discipline are maintained. A New Department of Agriculture, under the direction of Professor Arthur Samuel Kiefer, B. S. in Horticulture of Ohio State University, will begin its work. Prof. Kiefer is engaged in special work this summer, planning his courses and preparing for the inauguration of the new department. He will also be the Director of Athletics for the College. Applications for admission to the various departments—College, Preparatory, Teachers, Bible Training, Home Economics, Agriculture, Music, Art, and Expression and Public Speaking—are being received daily, and the number enrolled in 1916-1917 will be large.

The exceptional advantages afforded by Maryville College are provided at very low rates of expense for the student. Tuition is $6.00 a term or $18.00 a year. Rooms in the dormitories, with steam heat and electric light, may be had for $18.00 to $35.00 a year. There will be accommodations, either in the dormitories or with private families, for all that come. The Cooperative Boarding Club will accommodate all boarding students. Board is $1.95 a week. The college bills for the entire year average only $120.00. The fall term begins on Tuesday, Sept. 12, 1916. The Club opens on Monday, Sept. 11, at the supper hour. The winter term begins Jan. 2, 1917; the spring term, Mar. 27, 1917.

Write for a copy of the catalog and prospectus bulletin. Ask for a copy of the application blank upon which to get a certificate of your previous studies, for admission without examination. Engage your room early, for the best rooms are taken first. Do not come before Sept. 11, but be prompt in entering, for an extra fee is charged those that enter later than the third school day. School Term Too Short building and the consolidated school building at Meadow.

This year a school wagon will be operated to the Niles Ferry road school to convey children who live at a distance from the building.

There are other places in the county which are badly in need of consolidated school buildings, but it is not known what steps will be taken this year to erect these.

When money is taken from the general school fund to erect new buildings, this means that the children must pay for the buildings, by being deprived of a part of the school term.

Last year the term was cut short on account of a lack of funds. The children need the schooling, and the county ought to make other provision for erecting buildings, rather than to take it out of the school money derived from the taxes as now received.

Blount county ought to have an eight months' school. Money spent in educating the children is an investment that will pay greater returns than can come from any other kind of investment by the county or by individuals.

In the last annual school report of the county, for the year ending June 30, 1915, the value of school buildings in the county, not including the town, totaled $69,300.

No good business man would put that much money into any kind of a business plant to be operated only five months out of the year. The interest on this investment would amount to more than $4,000, per year, and for the time the buildings stand idle, the interest would amount to more than $2,000.

A county cannot afford to do business in a way that a good business man cannot, and educational leaders, realizing this, are approving of and conducting schools throughout the entire year.

Of course, Blount county is not ready to begin the year-round school, but Blount county is ready to have longer school terms than were afforded children 10, 15 and 20 years ago. The schools ought to have more money.

The rate of school tax on property per $100 levied by the state for elementary schools, is 15 cents.

The rate levied by the county is 30 cents, making a total of 45 cents school tax coming to the county.

The rate of school tax levied on polls by both the state and the county, is 100 cents.

The school tax in Blount county is higher than the tax in Knox county which gets 40 cents where Blount county gets 45 cents. If property in Blount county were assessed more nearly at what it should be, the schools would receive larger funds, and an eight months school term, or even a nine months school term would be possible.

If the county had made an appropriation for school buildings erected last year, and school money spent on them had been used to operate the schools, the county could have had a seven and one-half months' term.

died only a few years ago. There were five children in the family, and she is the first one to pass away.

Mrs. Sarah H. Hood, a sister, widow of Gen. R. N. Hood, lives in Knoxville.

Of her brothers Jasper is a builder and contractor in Maryville, John is connected with the Southern Railway with headquarters at Bristol, and Gray is living in California.

Miss Henry was educated in the schools of Maryville, and in Maryville college, from which she graduated.

In 1882 she went to Japan with her friend, Miss Cina Porter, as a missionary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions. In a storm at sea she was so seriously injured that after one year in Japan she was forced to return to her native land.

She never entirely recovered from this injury, but after some time she recovered enough to begin teaching.

For several years she served in the schools of Maryville and Knoxville, but from 1890 to the present she has been connected with the teaching force of Maryville college.

In 1903 she was asked by the directors of Maryville college to enter upon the work of attempting to secure contributions to provide scholarships, by which needy students could be assisted in their effort to win an education.

She finally agreed to make the attempt solely because she thought it her duty to do so. She proved to have remarkable powers and they everywhere won hearts and friends.

The first trip she made she secured $1,500, but each year the amount has steadily increased until this year she secured $15,000 for the college.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, our number has been broken and we have lost, by death, a beloved and honored member, Miss Margaret E. Henry; therefore be it

Resolved, That we the members of the Chilhowee Club, hereby place on record our deep sense of loss in the death of one who was for twenty-five years a loyal and efficient member of Chilhowee Club; our appreciation of her noble qualities of heart and brain; our personal love for her as a true and unselfish woman; our admiration for her loyal devotion to duty and to her every opportunity for service; our testimony to her power to inspire all the literary and social activities of the Club; our profound gratitude that the influence of a life so noble and full of good deeds has been left to us.

Miss Nancy L. Broady
Mrs. Chas. E. French
Mrs. F. L. Proffitt.

Committee.

The Maryville W. C. T. U. adopted resolutions on the death of Miss Margaret Henry as follows:

godness, o hrd rfdw fwqd frdwhrd

Whereas God in his wisdom and goodness through his providence which we believe always works together for good to them that love him, has permitted the death of our beloved sister and fellow-member, Miss Margaret Eliza Henry, who after a brief illness passed to her eternal and glorious reward on Friday morning, July 7th, and

Whereas, by her noble Christian life of service and many deeds of kindness she was used of God in helping hundreds, yea thousands, of young people throughout the length and breadth of the land to higher ideals and loftier conceptions of life, making it possible by her arduous toil and unselfish devotion for them to better fit themselves for life by obtaining an education and,

Whereas, by her always sweet disposition and charming personality she won and inspired all of us, and was a true and faithful member of the Woman's Temperance Union, living among us a truly wonderful Christian life, standing for the noble virtues,

Resolved, First, that we the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, express to the members of Miss Henry's family our deepest sympathy and the assurance of our prayers in this hour of great loss and sorrow; and secondly, to her intimate friends and relatives, and third to the faculty, teachers and student-body of Maryville she served so long and so well, and that we pledge ourselves each to pray that in the Providence of God which has guided and helped our beloved city and College thus far some one may be able to take her place and carry forward the work which was the joy of her heart; and fourth that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the official minutes of our meeting, a copy furnished to the family, and to each of the Maryville papers, and The Open Door, our state paper with their request from this Union for publication, and that deeply feeling our loss in the going of Miss Henry, nevertheless we say in submission to Him who can never mistake. How To Purchase a Diamond Intelligently

First of all, select the oldest and strongest diamond house in the city. Choose this house with the same care and discrimination you would use in selecting a bank, trust company or private secretary.

If you do this—you can buy freely and be absolutely secure in the knowledge that you are obtaining a maximum diamond value.

Since 1868, in Knoxville, the House of Hope Bros. has measured up to the highest standards of the most exacting diamond buyers.

It matters not what price you may pay—$10 or $1,000—you get here utmost diamond value at minimum cost.

ROCKFORD SOCIAL.

The young ladies of the "Rockford Social Club" which was organized a short time ago entertained in a most delightful manner their matron friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Caldwell, on last Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5.

The house was very inviting with its tasteful yet simple decorations of ferns and cut flowers.

The president, Miss Mildred Anderson, presided very gracefully over the pleasant program which was enjoyed very much by the mothers, grand-mothers and friends present.

Later the guests were invited into the dining room, which was decorated entirely in nasturtiums and lighted by candles where a salad course was served by the young ladies of the club, which is composed of the following girls:

Misses Mildred Anderson, Troy Haddock, Nelle Russell, Cassie Lou Russell, Ruth Caldwell, Aileen Russell.

The ladies enjoying this happy occasion were:

Mesdames W. L. Russell, Wright, Joe Broyles, Floyd Russell, Will Henry, Anderson, Lon Anderson, Chandler, Condon, Parker, W. M. Caldwell, T. A. Caldwell, Annie E. Caldwell and Misses Kizer, Parker, and Buffatt, of Knoxville, and Mrs. Pardue, of Atlanta, Ga.

HOUSE PARTY

Miss Marguerite Staley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Staley, has been entertaining a house party the past few days. Members of the party are Misses Gladys Wright, Elvora Paul, Mary Killebrew and Kathleen Killebrew, of Knoxville. Tuesday afternoon Miss Staley entertained the members of the T. D. D. club in honor of her house guests. A most delightful time was had.

CHANCERY SALE OF HOUSE AND LOT

In obedience to a decree of the Chancery Court at Maryville, Tennessee, made in the case of Tennessee & South-Eastern Coal Company versus O. T. Stanley, et al. I will on Saturday August 19, 1916, at 11:00 o'clock A. M., in front of the Court House door in Maryville, Tennessee, sell to the highest and best bidder, the town lot described in the pleadings, being the premises on which the defendant now reside situated on the corner of Stanley Street and Crooked creek road in Maryville.

Said sale will be on a credit of six and twelve months and in bar of the equity of redemption. Notes drawing interest from the day of sale, with good personal security will be required of the purchaser, and a lien will be retained on the property sold as further security.

This July 10, 1916.
